

THE HOYA

The Hoya: Opinion Columnist Application | Summer 2017

Thank you for your interest in writing a column during the summer of 2017. Opinion columnists can become among the most recognizable contributors at The Hoya, and their commentary plays an important role in campus dialogue.

A successful column approaches a broad topic through the columnist's unique angle. Past columns have commonly focused on religion, politics or student life, but applicants should not limit themselves to those areas. Regular columnists are responsible for writing one column every two weeks, and it is critical that applicants be able to commit to writing at this uninterrupted frequency.

Cover Letter

Your application should include a short cover letter explaining why you have chosen to apply to be a columnist for the Opinion section of The Hoya. Additionally, please include your name, school, year and hometown.

What would be the theme of your column? Please include your overall theme, as well as specific potential topics you plan to touch on in individual columns. Columnists should avoid discussing the same subject repeatedly, but each column should have a unique and distinguishable angle or general area of focus.

In addition to the subjects discussed in your sample columns, please list additional topics on which you would potentially be interested in writing. If applicable, please list your past and present involvement in journalism, be it at Georgetown or elsewhere.

Finally, please list any commitments you have over the summer which may impede upon your work as a columnist.

Sample Columns

Please attach two sample columns that represent the theme of the column you hope to write throughout the semester. These columns should be between 600 and 800 words in length. These sample columns will function as the first two that will run, so keep in mind that they may be published. Give your column a tentative title.

Note: The Hoya has occasionally featured duo columns. If this interests you, please submit only one application, with both applicants' cover letters on the same sheet. Additionally, give a specific explanation in your cover letter for why you are applying as a pair.

The deadline for columnist applications is Wednesday May 31, 2017, at 11:59 p.m.
Please submit your application to Maya Gandhi, Opinion Editor, at opinion@thehoya.com.
